

COOKIES POLICY

Regarding the website's cookie policy, in the event that the website has them and they are not inherent to the operation of the WEBSITE or as referred to in the aforementioned section 2 of article 22 LSSI "for the sole purpose of carrying out the transmission of a communication over an electronic communication network":

A cookie is an information file which the server of this website sends to the device (computer, smart-phone, tablet, etc) of the person who signs in the page, in order to store and recover information referred to the activity performed in such equipment.

Metaltex, S.L. uses different types of cookies (technical, analytical and social) only with the purpose of improving the surfing of the user in the web site, with no advertising aim or similar.

Metaltex, S.L., does not collect any personal data through cookies. All the cookies, except those used by Google Analytics statistics system, are temporary and disappear when the session is shut down.

At any moment, the user can choose which cookies need to work in this web site by means of:

- a. The configuration of the browser;
For more information visit the following links:
INTERNET EXPLORER, MOZILLA FIREFOX, GOOGLE CHROME, SAFARI
- b. Tools of third parties, available on-line, which allow the users to detect the cookies in each web site they visit and proceed to its deactivation.
Neither this web, nor its legal representatives are to be made responsible of any content or veracity of the privacy politics that third parties mentioned may have in this cookies policy.

The acceptance of the present policy implies that the user has been informed in a clear and complete form concerning the use of the storage devices and recovery of data (cookies), therefore Metaltex, S.L. has the user's consent for the use of same, according to established in the article 22 of Law 34/2002 of July 21, of the Information and Ecommerce Society Services (LSSI-CE).